THE MODERNS—AND PAN
I heard the pipes of Pan there in the wood—
Old stuff, of course but somehow, strangely good!

Old Pan is one we moderns still permit

To live—for Pan has punch, no doubt of it!

A little coaxing here and there—not much—

Would give his work the ultra modern touch

To tell him this is gentle kindly tact

Would be a felt, more a friendly act

How could he know a pie Victorian

How things have changed since nymphs from kisses came

And so I sought him out, 'Old Pan,' I said

This stuff of yours is out of date and dead

Come now, make new tunes for our Pipes, old man!

'Can tunes be new—slow smiling, quivered Pan

'Well then, new themes' I said in insistence

'Is not love always new' asked Pan

of me

'But times are changed and men and women too!

And me said Pan—'I'm not a woman an' new'

And still I hear the pipes of Pan there in the wood—

Old stuff of course—* * * but, somehow strangely good

Lep Yea
Dinner Success

The Leap Year dinner, given by Middleboro girls at the Hotel Cumberland Monday night to see the old year out and the new year in, was one of the most beautiful and enjoyable social occasions of the season. The room was decorated in gold and white, and the holly strewn posts were sprinkled with snow. Haze yellow and white snowballs in each corner of the room were filled with snow, which fell over the diners at 12 o'clock when the snowballs were torn open with yellow and white ribbons. Lights were dimmed for the midnight dance and esp-light played on the diners. A live electric 1921 over the door was lighted at midnight. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Margaret Shanks of Stanford, Misses Mary McDermott,

Drusilla Lee and Anna Putnam, Mrs.

J. A. McDermott, Mr. Speed M. Stan-

bury, Mr. Hedrick and Campbell Whitsett all of Harrisonville. Misses Mary

Johnson, Dora Gibson, Elmer Rie-

land, Samuels and Leann Metcalf, Ted

Creach, Joe Thomas, George Reese,

Hedley Card, Harry Carr, Thomas

Hole, and H. H. Myers of Pineville.

Ann Adams of Moscow, Paul Sumner of Ellettsville, Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Buck of Newport Ky.

News From Pineville

CAR CRASHES THROUGH
BARBER SHOP WINDOW

PINEVILLE, Jan. 2.—A Paige car driven by Charlie Wilber crashed into the Star Barber shop window at the corner of Pine and Tennessee streets, breaking the large plate glass window and tearing the frame from the front of the building. The car did not check the speed that he would have gone through the window completely.

The accident was the result of the collision between Wilber's and Matt Ayers' car at this point. According to witnesses the Wilber car was struck so suddenly that the driver was unable to stop and swerved crashing into the window.

Continental Hospital
John Thomas, colored, was brought in last Saturday night suffering from injuries caused by the wreck of a hand car which jumped the track while traveling at a high rate of speed. Several men were slightly injured and were brought in to the hospital and given first aid treatment, but the most seriously injured was Thomas, whose body was run over after the car had jumped the track. Some of the men told hospital officials that it was the work of someone who held a grudge against the men. The accident happened near one of the camps at the north end of Pineville.

Mrs. Jim Cobbs of Exeter, is confined here and will be operated on in a few days.

Miss Roxie Butters of Wallace Creek has been here several days. She spent one day at home during Christmas and returned to be operated on probably Tuesday.

Bill Philon, Wallace Creek, was a visitor at the hospital during Christmas holidays. He and Miss Campbell morning through to Elizabethton Christmas Eve. He will spend Saturday in the city on business.

Mrs. J. P. Brown, head matron at the hospital, spent Christmas day visiting Mrs. L. M. Schmitt at Elizabethton.

Exonerated of Drunk Charge
PINEVILLE, Jan. 2.—Charlie Baker charged with being intoxicated was exonerated Friday before Magistrate Creach Saturday. A Log Mountain citizen saw the accused in company with others going down a bluff down Baker was discharged on the ground that the bluff was rocky and that parties going downhill would more than likely stagger to regain their foothold.

Fernside Negro Drows Dead
PINEVILLE, Jan. 2.—John Wilson Fernside, dropped dead while unloading a wagon load of coal at Jim Fernson's home near Fernside Saturday morning. Miss Ewing is a sister of Mrs. Mealy of the Continental Hotel.

Miss Dresbach, nurse at the county health unit, will carry two orphan children, whose mother died a short time ago, to Louisville Baptist Orphan Home today. The children's names are Thelma, one is a baby girl 2 months old and the other is a boy, six years old.
